

YOUTH CONSERVATION COLLECTIVE

Guide youth in eco-action.

Learn from other conservationists.

Inspire the next generation of leaders.

The Youth Conservation Collective, led by CPAWS Southern Alberta, is an exciting program designed to develop environmental literacy and leadership in young Albertans, amplifying the diverse voices and perspectives that are too often overlooked in environmental conversations.

Become a mentor!

We're seeking experienced & emerging mentors who will work within a mentor cohort to help Youth Conservation Collective (YCC) participants implement eco-action projects. Within these diverse mentorship cohorts, you will empower youth to develop leadership skills and build meaningful networks—leaving a lasting impact on Alberta's high school students. The time commitment for mentors is approximately 27 hours over the course of 4 months, which includes field studies and meetings.

- Honorarium: As a token of our appreciation, you will receive $300 upon the completion of your contract obligations.
